HARVEST
SCHOLARS OF 2019
IDIA (Increasing Diversity by Increasing Access to legal education) is a pan-India social movement to train students from underprivileged communities and help transform them into leading lawyers and community advocates. IDIA is premised on the notion that access to premier legal education empowers marginalized communities by creating exceptional lawyers and community leaders from within.

The project is run on the backbone of highly passionate student volunteers from various law schools, who travel across the length and breadth of India to identify marginalized students with an aptitude for the study of law.

It then trains these selected students through a rigorous program for the leading law entrance examinations, such as CLAT (Common Law Admission Test) and AILET (All India Law Entrance Test). Once selected to the top law schools, IDIA arranges for sponsorships/scholarships and mentorship schemes to help candidates blossom to their full potential and take their rightful places as leading lawyers and community advocates.

IDIA Strikes Again

As with previous years, IDIA was blessed with a decent strike rate this year as well. Twelve of the scholars that we trained cracked the CLAT exam and made it to the top law schools. From their profiles, you can see that our scholars grew up amidst extreme adversity and poverty. And yet most of them converted their adversities into advantages.

Demonstrating a wonderful exuberance of spirit, they slogged it out well into the night and you can see the results for yourself. Competing with the best of privileged students from the best schools, and still making it to the elite National Law Schools. Though hailing from diverse backgrounds, our scholars are united in their avowed aim to change society for the better through their shot at legal education. Lending credence to the vision of the now deceased legal legend, Prof. Madhav Menon, who sought to create a new cadre of game changers through the NLS model.
IDIA Needs Your Help

Unfortunately, law schools cost a lot these days. And not many law schools help our scholars. Indeed, only a handful of law schools offer our scholars scholarships and fee waivers and the rest have refused despite several pleas in the past. As such, we need to rely on the large-heartedness of potential donors who can support the education of these children. And help them fulfil their dream of becoming leading lawyers and community advocates.

Unless we get committed donors for each of these scholars, they will have no option than to drop out and pick another (not so promising) avenue for their future. We sincerely hope that this will not come to pass. So please do help as best as you can! We are required to make an immediate payment of INR 50,000 per candidate in order to secure their seat at the university. With 12 of our scholars having made it through CLAT 2019, the total amount needed to just block their seats is INR 6,00,000. So please help at the earliest! All our details for contributions etc. can be found at http://www.idialaw.org/donate/ as well as on the last page of the flyer.

For more details, please email our Associate Director, Prateek Suri at prateek@idialaw.com, or call him at +91 9548455090. More contact details on the last page of this flyer. You can also take a look at our newly launched website at www.idialaw.org Thank you!

Arjun has secured a seat at the Gujarat National Law University, Gandhinagar (GNLU).

Arjun’s story is one of our most inspiring ever! Born and raised in a tiny village named Rashidpur in the Hooghly district of West Bengal, Arjun faced hardships at every stage of his life. His father is a daily wage labourer with a meagre income of hardly INR 3000 a month. As such, they struggle to make their ends meet.

Arjun’s story is quite tragic. At the age of four, Arjun experienced some irritation in one of his eyes. The local doctor was hardly suited to the task and ended up misdiagnosing him. As a result, he ended up losing sight in both of his eyes.

Undeterred, Arjun continued to fight against adversity, and convert each of them to his advantage. Given his own experience with a thoroughly inept and negligent doctor, he realized the importance of law and its potential to redress injustice and hold people accountable. This inspired Arjun to study law and become a lawyer to fight for justice for people who cannot afford to do so themselves.

He says that he does not want anyone else to feel the way he did when he went blind – absolutely helpless! Arjun finished his 12th standard studies from the Ramakrishna Mission Blind Boys’ Academy in Kolkata. He also happens to be a history buff, and spends most of his time in the library, his fortress of solitude.

After a lot of hard work and burning the midnight oil, Arjun secured a seat at GNLU as per the CLAT’s first consolidated allotment list. Arjun was trained by our training partner, Career Launcher through its centre in Gariahat, Kolkata.

The annual costs for GNLU, inclusive of tuition fees, internships, hostel, mess, travel expenses and other related costs are approximately INR 4.69 lakhs per annum. Fortunately, we’ve found a donor who will support Arjun and contribute towards the entire costs!
Vaibhavi has secured a seat at the Gujarat National Law University, Gandhinagar (GNLU).

Vaibhavi hails from Zirad, a village in coastal Maharashtra. Her father works two jobs to provide for his family – he is a farmer and also runs a small shop. With a measly monthly income of just INR 5000, he supports a family of 5! They live in a humble abode, with very little public transportation access.

All this adversity did not deter Vaibhavi who knew that she could make something of herself with hard work and dedication. Blessed with multiple intelligences (in noted Harvard educationist Howard Gardners language), Vaibhavi has won several essay competitions, elocution events, and also represented her school in numerous basketball tournaments. She also sings and plays the harmonium beautifully. And all the while, she performed very well in class too – scoring a whopping 89.60% in her 11th standard exams.

Fortunately for us, Vaibhavi was interested in law since childhood and therefore didn’t really require any major convincing to give CLAT a shot. Biographies of our founding fathers and freedom fighters such as Mahatma Gandhi and Pt. Nehru influenced her deeply. However her real impetus came through an unfortunate incident, when she lost her dear uncle in a fishing boat accident. They could get no compensation as they were not aware of their rights and had no access to legal counsel.

Vaibhavi now wants to remedy this and hold a torchlight for her community and those around her; so they can be aware of and fight for their rights. She is keenly aware of the law and its potential for justice and social transformation. After qualifying as a lawyer, Vaibhavi wishes to unleash a platform where the poor and needy are provided free access to justice. After a rigorous training regimen, Vaibhavi secured a seat at GNLU. Vaibhavi was trained by our training partner, Career Launcher, through its centre in Pune.

The annual costs for GNLU, inclusive of tuition fees, miscellaneous fees, nominal living expenses, internships, accommodation, travel and other related costs are approximately INR 4.69 lakhs per annum. Please help Vaibhavi’s noble dream come true!
Sushanth Gajula is a very vibrant student from the Sai Junior Blind College in Hyderabad. Originally from Warangal, Sushant's family settled down in Begumpet, Hyderabad. Sushanth's father, a medical assistant under a private doctor, provides for the family of 4 through his salary of INR 8750 per month. Sushant was born with a defect in his eyes that rendered him blind at a very early age.

One of our most dedicated scholars, Sushant received rich plaudits from his mentors for the manner in which he diligently went about preparing for CLAT. At school, Sushanth loved staying back and spending time with his teachers to debate and discuss what transpired in class each day.

During his time in school, Sushant developed a keen interest in political issues and the intricacies and impact of court rulings. Fascinated by what he learnt, he resolved to pursue a legal career.

Sushant’s efforts to crack CLAT were aided by the Hyderabad Chapter for whom he reserves much praise. In his words, “The IDIA Hyderabad chapter was a constant source of support in the phase of my preparation for CLAT as they gave me valuable inputs. The volunteers were very dedicated and were always open to our doubts even if it is a trivial one.”

Sushant’s efforts were also supported by our training partner LST. He appeared for their test series and it proved to be a great practice run for him.

Through his untiring efforts, Sushant did exceedingly well in CLAT and has been allotted a seat in WBNUJS, Kolkata, one of the top 3 NLUs in the country today. The cost of completing a legal education at WBNUJS, inclusive of tuition, related costs, internship, hostel, mess and nominal living expenses, is around INR 4.83 lakhs per annum. Your contribution could help Sushant achieve his dream of practicing law!
Sheetal Kumari is a hardworking and passionate student from a small village called Patra Toli in the Ranchi District of Jharkhand. Her father works as a security guard at the National University of Study and Research in Law (NUSRL) at Ranchi, with a monthly income of merely INR 5,000 per month, and her mother is a homemaker.

Sheetal has been a focused student, scoring 8.5 CGPA in her 10th standard from Cambrian Public School, Ranchi and 67% in 12th standard from Ursuline College, Ranchi. Sheetal says it was her dream to be a lawyer and now that she has cleared CLAT, she is happy to see herself on the way to becoming one. NUSRL is also home to the IDIA Jharkhand Chapter and Sheetal reached out to them for support and guidance. She studied very hard for CLAT with the help of IDIA volunteers, and also attended a few free training sessions by ‘National CLAT Academy’ in Ranchi.

While explaining why she’d like to study law, she said, “I want to become a lawyer because I belong to a community which is socially and economically backward. Due to this, many people try to suppress us and consider us weak. Due to a general lack of education and awareness, girls are not sent to school, and nobody can raise their voice against it as they are not aware of our laws and our rights. So, I want to become a lawyer to fight for the rights of tribals and other oppressed communities and help them attain equal status in society.”

Sheetal has scored well in CLAT 2019 and has been allotted a seat at the National University of Study and Research in Law (NUSRL), Ranchi in the first CLAT list. The average cost of studying at NUSRL including tuition fees, internship, hostel, mess, travelling and nominal living expense is about 4.47 lakhs per annum. Fortunately, we've found a donor who will support Sheetal and contribute towards the entire costs!
BiswaJit’s is a rousing story – one of dedication and determination triumphing against all odds. BiswaJit belongs to a tiny village – Bhaktipur in the South 24 Parganas District of West Bengal. He is visually impaired due to a congenital birth defect. He has three siblings – two of whom are also visually impaired due to the same defect. His father, a farmer, supports the family with a meager income of INR 4000 per month.

BiswaJit has never let his circumstances get the better of him. Confident and self-assured about being able to achieve any goal through grit and industry, he has constantly strived towards self-improvement. He also makes it a point to stay abreast of the latest developments in today’s fast-moving world and spends his free time reading local and global news.

BiswaJit says, “law is a topic of myth and mystery” in his village which has seldom seen a lawyer. The villagers are constantly oppressed and taken advantage of due to their lack of knowledge of the law and their rights. BiswaJit is determined to set things right. He dreams of helping his community escape this state of affairs by offering pro bono legal services for the villagers in need.

BiswaJit studied for his class 12th board examinations from the Ramakrishna Mission Blind Boys’ Academy and is keen to support and provide for his siblings and give his parents a life of comfort and financial security. The IDIA West Bengal Chapter provided guidance and support to BiswaJit, and he was trained by our training partner, Career Launcher through its centre in Gariahat, Kolkata.

BiswaJit’s terrific performance in CLAT 2019 has resulted in him being allotted a seat in NLUO in the first consolidated CLAT list. Average costs at NLUO inclusive of tuition, miscellaneous fees, internship, hostel, mess and nominal living expenses are INR 3.80 lakhs per annum. Fortunately we’ve found a donor who will support BiswaJit and contribute towards the entire costs!
AKHIL NENAVATH

Akhil has secured a seat at the National Law University Odisha (NLUO).

Akhil is a sharp, industrious and driven student from Devarkonda village in Telangana. Akhil's life has been one of grave hardship, having lost his father at a very tender age. His mother toils long hours in the field as an agricultural labourer to support Akhil and his younger brother. With an annual income of around INR 85,000, the family has had to endure innumerable financial difficulties.

Akhil, however has always persevered and through sheer grit and dedication, he has made the most of the opportunities presented to him. His school waived his tuition fee as an act of kindness. Akhil justified the faith they had reposed in him by scoring a stellar CGPA of 9 out of 10 in his tenth standard. He continued to focus on his academics with the same rigour and scored an impressive 86% in his twelfth standard as well. Akhil is also a keen sportsperson with a passion for Kabaddi!

With little exposure to the various career options before him, Akhil took some time off after his twelfth standard to learn and make an informed decision about his future. Once he became aware of the kind of opportunities which a legal career presented, he set his mind to cracking CLAT. In his own words, Akhil sets out why he seeks to study law - "I am keen to pursue law so that I can be of help to all the people in my village and community... [Otherwise,] I will not be able to help people of my community".

Reality dawned when Akhil realized he could not afford the fees of the coaching centres or the national law colleges. Undeterred, he visited NALSAR, Hyderabad, to find a way to pursue his dream. He came to know about IDIA through a student at NALSAR and approached us. IDIA then approached its training partner, Career Launcher, which gladly agreed to offer free coaching through its centre in Hyderabad and Akhil went on to prepare for CLAT with unflinching zeal.

Akhil’s continued efforts have paid off and he has been allotted NLUO in the first consolidated CLAT list. Average costs at NLUO inclusive of tuition, internship, accommodation, travel and living expenses are INR 3.80 lakhs per annum. Please come forward and help Akhil achieve his dream of empowering his community.
Ananth Budhraja is a highly motivated and passionate student who was born in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh but has been a resident of Surat, Gujarat, over the last 18 years. His father tutors a bunch of local kids for a living while his mother is a teacher at a small local school. The family’s total monthly income is around INR 20,000.

Anant passed his 10th standard examinations with a whopping CGPA of 10 out of 10. He scored excellently in his 12th standard examinations as well. His score was 94.4%. Anant’s hobbies include reading, sketching, and playing basketball and volleyball.

Anant had always been dedicated towards pursuing legal education. He says, “law is the only field which makes one truly realize the basic rights that one is entitled to.” Anant wants to work towards the betterment of the society using the instrumentality of the law.

Anant had cracked CLAT on a previous occasion and secured a seat in GNLU, but could not take admission due to financial constraints. He was constantly troubled by the thought that he would never be able to pursue his dream of becoming a lawyer and a good bread winner for his family. As luck would have it, he met Mr. Mohit Mangal, CEO of IQUE Ideas, Ahmedabad, who introduced Anant to IDIA.

Rest, as they say, is history. Anant performed exceedingly well in all the aptitude tests to be selected as an IDIA trainee. He also performed well in IDIA mock tests.

Anant did magnificently in CLAT and has been allotted a seat at the WBNUJS, Kolkata, one of the top 3 NLUs in the country today. The cost of completing a legal education at WBNUJS, inclusive of tuition, related fees, accommodation, internship, travel and mess expenses, is approximately INR 4.83 lakhs per annum. Your contribution could help Anant achieve his dream of becoming a lawyer!
Ashok Sagar hails from ‘Sargaro ka bas’, a tiny village in Rajasthan. His father, a farmer, supports a family of six with a paltry income of around INR 3,300 per month. Ashok, the eldest of 4 siblings, has always tried to set the right example for his brothers and sister, who look up to him. He is also determined to extend a helping hand to his father whom he has seen work doggedly in the scorching heat each day!

An ardent believer in the virtues of hard work, Ashok has broken down numerous barriers through the sheer force of his unrelenting efforts and perseverance. Indeed, against all odds, he performed well in academics. He scored 87.67 % in his 10th standard and 85.50% in the 12th standard in the science stream.

A voracious reader, Ashok also authored thoughtful pieces on topics varying from environment to the importance of hard work!

Ashok came to know about IDIA and law as a career option through a sensitization program conducted by IDIA in his school. He qualified among a large number of students who gave the IDIA National Aptitude Test. IDIA then approached its training partner, Law Prep Tutorials, which gladly agreed to offer free coaching through its centre in Jodhpur. According to him, law is not only an important aspect of every one’s life, it also has a vital role to play in a nation’s growth and development. He is determined to study law and contribute towards the development of his nation.

Ashok’s impressive performance in CLAT 2019 has resulted in his being allotted a seat in HNLU in the second consolidated CLAT list. Average costs at HNLU inclusive of tuition, internship, moot courts and other extra curricular activities, hostel, mess, travel, and other expenses are approximately INR 3.72 lakhs per annum. Please come forward and help Ashok achieve his dream of becoming a nation builder!
PIYUSH SONI

Piyush has secured a seat at the National Law Institute University, Bhopal (NLIU).

Piyush Soni hails from Ganj Basoda, a small town in Madhya Pradesh. His father runs a small store and has to support a family of four with a monthly income that hardly comes to INR 10,000!

Through sheer hard work and determination, Piyush overcame insurmountable obstacles and his stellar academic credential stand testament to the same. Piyush topped his school, Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalaya (JNV), Vidisha, in the tenth standard with a perfect C.G.P.A of 10 out of 10. Choosing not to rest on his laurels, he continued to work with the same resolve and in his twelfth standard, scored a mighty 90% in the science stream.

Piyush has not allowed the less than fortunate circumstances in which he grew up, affect his undying spirit and is keen to work for the betterment of the society. He nurtures dreams of becoming a judge and putting to use the powerful instrument of law to unleash positive changes. A voracious reader, Piyush is also a cricket and volleyball enthusiast who is always up for a game or two.

Piyush came to know about IDIA through one of its scholars – Mukesh Tomar. Mukesh had been a senior at JNV, Vidisha and his journey inspired Piyush. He reached out to the IDIA Chapter at NLIU Bhopal and he was picked for training soon after. Piyush never missed an opportunity to ensure his success in CLAT. He took a year off to focus on training, travelled to NLIU Bhopal for every training session and often spent hours studying with volunteers in the campus. An avid reader of general knowledge, he was often lent books. He would always return them in two days, having read the book cover to cover.

Piyush’s efforts bore fruit when he secured a seat at NLIU, Bhopal. The average annual cost at NLIU inclusive of tuition fees, nominal living expense, internship, accommodation, travel and other related costs is about INR-4.38 lakhs per annum. Fortunately, we've found a donor who will support Piyush for this year and contribute towards the entire costs!
Shristi has secured a seat at the Institute of Law, Nirma University, Ahmedabad (ILNU).

Shristi hails from Ara, a town in Bihar. Her father is a tuition teacher who supports a family of four on a monthly income of less than Rs. 15,000/-. Her mother is a homemaker. She also has a younger brother.

When she was in the 5th standard, Shristi's father shifted her from the local government school to a DAV school in the hope of giving his daughter a better future. While he had her grandmother's support, his decision wasn't encouraged by her relatives who believed only boys should attend good schools. Her father paid no heed to them and stood his ground, borrowing money when the need arose to fund her education.

Shristi proved her father right by performing exceedingly well throughout school and securing several scholarships as she went along. An all rounder, she was also passionate about basketball and chess, and even represented her district in basketball matches. According to the IDIA Bihar Team who trained her, Shristi has shown enormous perseverance, dedication and focus. She would travel from very far to prepare for law entrance exams, and this was her second year of preparation.

Shristi believes she can play an impactful role in the development of society. In school, she was an active participant in debates and was interested in history and politics. In law school, she wants to continue to deepen her interest in history and politics, and believes that a law degree coupled with a meaningful understanding of those two subjects will help her attain her goal.

Shristi has gained admission into the Institute of Law, Nirma University (ILNU). Fortunately, ILNU waives the tuition fee of INR 2,17,300 for 2 IDIA Scholars each year. However, Shristi will need approximately INR 3.38 lakhs per annum, inclusive of exam fees, internships, accommodation, mess, moot courts, travel expenses, phone and laptop, medical expenses and other related costs. Please come forward to support Shristi and help all her hard work come to fruition!
Om has secured a seat at the Institute of Law, Nirma University, Ahmedabad (ILNU).

Om Prakash was once told by his father, that money and resources come and go, but knowledge is the one thing that cannot be taken away. Inspired by this tenet, Om Prakash has always been an avid student and an all-rounder. He has 7 members in his family. Both his parents earn a little more than INR 14000 per month from farming. Their income is uncertain. He has four sisters, two of whom are married and are homemakers. Among the other two sisters, one is studying and the other has dropped out of school.

He moved from his village to the city of Udaipur to live with one of his sisters, so he could have access to better education. He has been a consistent performer with a CGPA of 9.4 in 10th standard, and 75 percent in the 12th standard. He has also played football at the state level (Under 19, and Under 17); winning a national level award for the sport.

Om got to know about IDIA from one of his acquaintances, who was then preparing for CLAT. He subsequently got selected after giving the aptitude test. He believes that studying law will help him contribute to society in an impactful way. He thinks that the knowledge of law will also give him an extensive understanding about a variety of subjects, and enable him to fight for the causes he believes in. Inspired by the struggles that his sisters have faced as a result of being financially dependent; he wants to fight for gender equality. As a responsible member of society, he recognises that there are unique challenges in rural societies and wants to help tackle the same, as well as achieve financial independence for his sisters and parents. Om's superior performance in CLAT has earned him a seat at ILNU.

Fortunately, ILNU waives the tuition fee of INR 2,17,300 for 2 IDIA Scholars each year. However, Om will need approximately INR 3.47 lakhs per annum, inclusive of exam fees, internships, hostel charges, mess, moot courts, travel expenses, phone and laptop, medical expenses and other related costs. Please come forward to support Om on his mission to be a community leader and advocate.
Shubham has secured a seat at the Hidayatullah National Law University, Raipur (HNLU).

Shubham Tirkey hails from Katanga, a village situated 30 kilometers away from Jashpur district, the northern tip of Chhattisgarh. He stayed away from his family for six years in a government hostel in Jashpur for his schooling. Shubham is the youngest among 4 siblings and the only income is their retired father’s meager pension of INR 40,000.

Shubham is a hard-working student, who likes playing football in his free time. Determined to study further and pursue a legal education, he ignored his family's suggestion of taking up farming. He was also undeterred by those who advised him that law is only for kids from privileged families with legal backgrounds. On further research, he came to know about CLAT, but he neither had the financial means nor his family’s support to attend coaching classes.

As luck would have it, his father was informed about the free CLAT coaching classes provided by an IDIA scholar and an IDIA volunteer in Jashpur. This IDIA initiative was in collaboration with the district administration of Jashpur, that provided free food and accommodation to IDIA volunteers. Shubham convinced his father to let him join the classes. He says: “I found it [the classes] to be really exciting and the course was also structured in a way that interested me.” Shubham overcame many difficulties such as lack of geographical access, language barrier, financial adversities etc. to crack CLAT and secure a seat at HNLU.

He says – “[B]ecause of Jashpur district administration and IDIA, I will be able to live my dream, study law and pursue higher studies... I am thankful to Nilesh Sir (Collector, Jashpur), IDIA, Svetlana Ma’am, Shikhar Sir and all my mentors who stood beside me to help me achieve my dreams. I promise I'll never ever let you down. Thank you for giving wings to my dreams”. After finishing his legal education, Shubham wants to become a judge and make a difference to the society.

The annual costs for HNLU, inclusive of tuition fees, internships, hostel, mess, travel expenses and other related costs are approximately INR 3.72 lakhs per annum. Please come forward to support Shubham and help his dreams soar!

THANK YOU!

Congratulations to our directors, team leaders and volunteers who went out of their way to train and mentor these scholars and enable their outstanding success! But most importantly, IDIA thanks its training partners such as LST, IMS Learning Resources, iQue Ideas, Crack CLAT, Do–Zen, Legal Edge, Law Prep, Lawctopus, MyLaw, Heritage education and others for providing excellent training for our scholars free of cost.

We also wish to thank our many donors, partners and well wishers who came forward to fund the CLAT application forms for our scholars, and helped contribute to our sensitisations, training programmes and other initiatives. We truly appreciate your support!
